

Across

- 4 A kind of sausage, made in a bag of tripe, sliced and fried: ROLLICHE
- 6 Pig fat: LARD
- 7 Also known as Topsy Parson: TRIFLE
- 11 A small liquid measure holding one fourth of a pint: GILL
- 13 A pickle relish based on chopped tomatoes with horseradish, sugar, spices, vinegar: PICCALILLI
- 14 English word for molasses: TREACLE
- 16 He demanded that Chicken Marengo be served after every battle: NAPOLEON
- 19 Salad invented at The Brown Derby restaurant: COBB
- 21 Invented in 1832 for Prince Clemens Lothar Wensel Metternich: SACHERTORTE
- 22 Child: JULIA
- 24 Hercule Poirot's beverage of choice: TISANE
- 25 Another name for baking ammonia and a powerful leavening agent much used in baking in the nineteenth century: HARTSHORN
- 29 A game bird similar to a woodcock: SNIPE
- 30 One of the most important leaders in the development of modern French cuisine: ESCOFFIER
- 31 Name of family that symbolizes San Francisco sourdough bread: BOUDIN
- 32 A small mug or cup: NOGGIN
- 33 Miracle meat in a can: SPAM

Down

- 1 Hard pears: WINDFALLS
- 2 A young rabbit: LEVERET
- 3 Seed from an evergreen tree indigenous to Australasia and tropical regions of Southeast Asia: NUTMEG
- 5 To boil with a continued bubbling noise: WALLOP
- 8 Key ingredient of this popular salad: ANCHOVIES
- 9 Raymond Chandler novel: PLAYBACK
- 10 Name of fictional town in Hammett's novel Red Harvest: POISONVILLE
- 12 A dessert beverage of milk and wine or cider, sweetened with sugar and topped with whipped cream: SYLLABUB
- 15 A pickle/vegetable relish in a sauce of mustard, sugar, and vinegar: CHOWCHOW
- 17 A European mint less aromatic than peppermint or spearmint: PENNYROYAL
- 18 A fish stew usually containing several kinds of fish with onions and wine: MATELOTE
- 19 A small, immature apple: CODLIN
- 20 A yellowish fish found in both fresh and salt waters: BREEM
- 21 An eel split and prepared for cooking: SPITCHCOCK
- 23 Slightly fermented oatmeal boiled and served with cream or milk: FLUMMERY
- 26 The result of bread, fruit, or vegetables that have been grated or scraped: RASPIINGS
- 27 To cook in fat until crisp and curled at edges: FRIZZLE
- 28 The Charles's drink of choice: MARTINI